VESSEL HITS REEF; 47 DEAD LAWYERS ENDORSE HARDING FOR PRESIDENT

SLAIN GIRL'S MOTHER WILL BE CALLED TO WITNESS STAND

Reputed Son of Senator Is Charged With Killing
Sweetheart.

EXTRA DAY OF REST

Mrs. Alice Lesser Expected to Furnish Surprising Evidence.

By W. BOYD GATEWOOD.
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 20.—The murder trial of Harry S. New Jr., reputed son of U. S. Senator New of Indiana, went over today until Monday when Judge Gavis W. Craig ordered an adjournment until that time.
New is accused of killing his sweetheart, Freda Lesser, on the night of last July 4.
It is thought that counsel for both sides agreed by stipulation to the adjournment over the week end, owing to conditions which each faced and wished to improve. The defense, suffering a severe day when the state three scored telling blows, sought time to improve its lines and the prosecution, suddenly finding one of its star witnesses, Mrs. Alice Lesser, unable to testify today, prevailed upon the court to order an extra day of rest in the trial.
Surprising evidence which Mrs. Lesser could not reveal at a previous sitting because of extreme emotion and near hysteria is expected to result, the prosecution let it be known. This is said to relate to her daughter's association with New and bears directly on the postponement of her wedding at the instance of Mrs. Lesser herself. It is thought Mrs. Lesser will testify that Freda allowed herself to be persuaded by New to marry him on the date he had set against her wishes in the matter and that therefore this could not have been the incident that angered him to the point of murder and the crime.
The defense is striving to block Mrs. Lesser's return to the witness chair. Her emotion is believed to exert a powerful influence on the

NEED $100 TO AID POOR HERE

Salvation Army's Winter Relief Fund Totals
$700.75 Today.

Less than $100 is required now to bring the Salvation Army Winter Relief fund up to the $800 necessary to carry into operation the Yuletide philanthropies.
About $50 was collected through the two Christmas kettles placed on the city's down town streets Friday. Inclemency of the weather and scarcity of workers are combining to handicap the efforts of the Salvation Army in collecting contributions.
Three members of the Salvation Army staff made a canvass of the offices of several potteries in this district Saturday with the view of receiving pledges made by pottery workers this week.
Here is Saturday's report:
Previously reported $625.75
Christmas kettles 50.00

THREE MEN, INCLUDING CAPTAIN, OF CREW OF OIL TANKER RESCUED

J. A. Chanslor Ship, Bound in Ballast From Portland to San Francisco, Breaks in Two, After
Part Carrying 30 Men Down
With it—Lifeboat Capsized.

MARSHFIELD, Ore., Dec. 20.—Forty-seven members of the crew of the oil tanker J. A. Chanslor are believed today to have been lost when the vessel struck a reef off Cape Blanco on the Oregon coast Thursday night. Three men, including Captain Sawyer, are known to have been saved.
The Chanslor was bound in ballast from Portland to San Francisco. Immediately after striking the reef the vessel broke in two, the after part carrying 30 members of the crew down with it.
Earl Dooley, one of the survivors, stated that 10 or 12 members succeeded in manning a lifeboat. The craft drifted all Thursday night and Friday, unable to make a landing or give a call for help. Two men were picked up by the men in the boat, but one of them was insane and died shortly after being pulled out of the ice-cold water.
The lifeboat capsized when an effort was made to make a landing near Bandon, Ore., and the fate of the ten occupants is still unknown.

AWAITS MOVE ON VOTE RECOUNT

Columbiana County Election
Board Prepared to Act In Wet-Dry Contest—Recount
Will Begin Dec. 29.

J. S. Hilbert, of this city, chief deputy of the Columbiana county board of elections, Saturday was awaiting instructions from the office of the secretary of state as to the final disposition of ballots cast in this county on the wet and dry issues at the general election last November.
Decision of Judge Clevenger, of the Franklin county common pleas court, in granting a recount of at least a part of the ballots cast on Nov. 4, may result in the issuance of instructions to the election board here to proceed to Columbus with the ballot boxes for a second count, Mr. Hilbert said.
Acting upon instructions from the secretary of state, all ballots cast by Columbiana county electors on any of the prohibition proposals have been preserved intact at election board headquarters here. If Columbiana county is designated as one of the counties in question, the ballots will either be shipped to Columbus for recount by a specially designated corps of tally men or members of the local election board will be instructed to proceed to Columbus to personally retabulate the vote.
The recount will begin Dec. 29. Judge Clevenger has ruled. Judge Clevenger has also ordered that ballots in all voting districts of the state shall remain intact until the recount is completed.

EXPECT CRIME WAVE IN STATE

Clean-Ups in Larger Cities Will Tend to Drive Crooks to Small Communities, Says
Police Chief.

Predicting a crime wave that would engulf the smaller cities of Ohio during the holidays, Chief of Police Hugh McDermott Saturday issued a warning to East Liverpool residents to take every precaution to safeguard their property and valuables.
Inauguration of crime cleanups in the larger cities, Chief McDermott explained, will tend to drive crooks to seek a profitable haven in the smaller cities. Already a number of complaints have been received at police headquarters here of the loss of pocketbooks in the down town districts.
Pickpockets and house workers are the crooks to be guarded against at this time, Chief McDermott said. The slick fingered gentry, he said, will infest the down town stores and streets seeking victims from among the throngs of hurrying shoppers. House workers will take advantage of the momentary absence of the residents shopping down town to force an entrance into the homes.
The holiday season is also the favorite time of the year for worthless check passers, Chief McDermott declared. Merchants should make certain that any checks proffered them are cashable.

RESUME HEARING IN MISSING WHISKEY CASE

The hearing of Ambrose Hancock, charged with having received part of Thomas Cloran's $20,000 lot of whiskey which disappeared from its storing place on the Eugene Thorne farm, north of the city, in November, was resumed in Justice D. M. McLane's court shortly after 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.
The trial of F. M. Arnold, Wellsville mill worker, facing a similar charge, will follow the Hancock case.

BOMBS, PISTOL SHOTS FAIL TO CHANGE LORD FRENCH'S PLANS

Declares He Will "Not Alter
Routine For All Ireland's Threats."

OWES LIFE TO MISTAKE

Declares Fusillade Greater Than Anything Encountered
In World War.

DUBLIN, Dec. 20.—"I am not going to alter my routine for all Ireland's threats," declared Lord French, lord lieutenant of Ireland in discussing today the attempt that was made upon his life near Dublin yesterday. The latest information available shows that in addition to the pistol shots that were fired, five bombs were thrown at Lord French.
The official probably owes his life to the fact that the assailants mistook the second automobile for the one in which he really was riding. The lord lieutenant's automobile was heavily armored. Lady French was with her husband.

After the attack Lord French smilingly declared that the fusillade was greater than anything he had encountered in the world war, while he was commander-in-chief of the British army in France and Flanders.
Edward Holly, a detective, was riding with the lord lieutenant.
He said it was not until the fifth bomb had exploded that he drew his revolver and began shooting.
"We had just rounded a turn in the road near a half-way house when the attack began," said Holly. "As the fourth bomb exploded in the path of the car, I drew my revolver and began shooting. I could see men fleeing across the field behind a hedge and I fired at them until apparently without any success.
"One of the bombs had struck the hood of the machine and a splinter of wood hit my right hand, knocking my revolver from my grip. I quickly

LIFE SENTENCE IS REDUCED BY COURT

AKRON, Dec. 20.—Joe Martin, 39, Cleveland, street car man, up for pocket picking was given a life term in the penitentiary today by Judge P. B. Treash as a habitual criminal. When Martin's attorney called attention to the fact that the law did not provide a life term for pocket picking the court reduced the sentence to five years.
Martin said he had been arrested for the offense more times than he could remember. He had been in Akron only four hours when he was picked up on this occasion. His attorney filed notice of appeal.

MAN KIDNAPS BABY GIRL FROM HOSPITAL

Police Called Upon to Solve Mysterious Abduction From Ward at Charity Hospital,
Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 20.—Police solved the mystery of the kidnapping of Mary Zakais, six, from a ward at the Charity hospital this morning, when they located the child at her home. The mother became lonely and induced the father to secure the child by kidnapping her.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 20.—Police were called upon today to solve the mysterious kidnapping case in which a baby girl was stolen from one of the wards at Charity hospital this morning at 7 o'clock.

Hospital authorities were reluctant to give details of the kidnapping, but it was learned that the child was taken by a man who fled through a window opening on a fire escape.
The child was known to hospital attaches as "Baby Mary."
Following an investigation, police said the child was Mary Zakais, who was placed in the hospital by her mother a few days ago. The kidnapper had climbed up a rain pipe to enter the ward window. He had evidently awaited the moment when the nurse would be out of the room.

CONSOLIDATION OF CITY'S TWO NEWSPAPER OFFICES

Prompted by the nation-wide shortage of newsprint paper, the constantly soaring price of which, with other expense entering into the publication of a newspaper, has been responsible for similar moves in many cities throughout the United States, East Liverpool's two newspaper offices—The Morning Tribune and the East Liverpool Review—have been consolidated.
The East Liverpool Publishing company, publishers of the Review, will be the holding company, which will include many of the principal stockholders of the Morning Tribune company.
The merger will not interrupt the regular issue of either newspaper. The Morning Tribune will be maintained as a morning publication, while The Review will continue to cover the evening field.
As a result of steps taken by the management, both the Morning Tribune and the East Liverpool Review, with capable staffs, up-to-the-minute leased wire news service and correspondence, in addition to many special features, will be made the best morning and evening newspapers, respectively, in the Ohio Valley.
This consolidation means better newspapers for East Liverpool.

Urge Improvement In Method of Assigning Common Pleas Court.

United States Senator Warren G. Harding of Marion, was endorsed for Republican presidential nomination at a meeting of the Southern Columbiana County Bar association held Friday evening in the library of Lones, Hill and Davidson, in the Poters' Savings and Loan building.
A resolution urging the immediate improvement of the river road between Wellsville and Toronto, connecting with an improved stretch of roadway leading to Steubenville, was passed.
Probate Judge S. W. Crawford and Earl Powell, thence city, and James O'Grady of Wellsville, were admitted to the association. Judge Crawford and Mr. Powell recently passed the Ohio bar examination at Columbus.
Attorneys Walter B. Hill, Ben L. Bennett and Blaine H. Cochran, all of this city, were named on a committee to arrange a series of entertainments to feature the winter meetings of the association. The functions, likely to assume the nature of travesties on justice, will be staged in the law library of the firm of Lones, Hill & Davidson.
More than 20 attorneys from this city, Wellsville and Salineville attended the meeting Friday night.

COUNTY NEWS

'PUT' SANDLES MAKES ADDRESS

A meeting of the county farm bureau was held at Lisbon Saturday at which A. P. Sandles of Columbus made an address. It was a booster meeting to be held to stimulate membership preparatory to the annual meeting to be held late. Mr. Sandles instead of abusing the town man and all the agencies that the farmer thinks are against him, attacked the farmer. He said that too many farmers were kickers.

"How many of you own automobiles?"

Two thirds of the hands went up.

"How many of you 15 years ago wanted to shoot the man who owned one?" Every one laughed and many held up their hands.

"That is just the trouble," said Sandles, "you are opposing progress and the man who opposes organization among the farmers and opposes the farm bureaus and county agents is standing in his own light. He is like the lightning bug. He has his headlight behind and never sees anything that is in front of him."

He urged that Columbiana county organize thoroughly and take immediate steps towards securing a farm agent. Sandles also discussed taxation and said that the proposed income tax law if passed would be productive of more prosperity than any other law in Ohio.

WOMAN AND CHILDREN TAKEN TO INFIRMARY

Mrs. Lucy Simore, with four children, the eldest one eight and the youngest one three years, was taken to the county infirmary Friday from Wellsville, where she will be held as a witness against Frank Wagers, also of Wellsville, who is in jail on the charge of assault and battery. It is understood that a much more serious charge will be brought against Wagers.

When the woman and children were brought to the county home they were in a pitiable condition, being almost destitute of clothing, undernourished and ill.

Jury Disagrees.

In the case of the state of Ohio against William Roberts, charged with robbing a store at East Liverpool, the jury remained out until 10:30 o'clock Friday night, when a disagreement was reported.

NEW BELL FOR LOCAL CHURCH

Purchased for Tower of Orchard Grove Avenue M. E. Church.

A new bell will peal out Christmas chimes from the tower of the Orchard Grove Avenue Methodist Episcopal church this year, providing the weather permits the mounting of the bell, early next week.

The new bell arrived here Thursday from the McShane Bell Foundry at Baltimore, Md. The bell alone weighs 1,200 pounds, while with the mountings the total weight of the bell is estimated at 1,500 pounds.

The bell was purchased at a cost of $725 from funds raised by popular subscriptions from members of the congregation and residents of the Northside. It will replace the old bell, still in the church tower, which was cracked a short time after it was installed years ago.

Rev. L. O. Eldridge, new pastor of the church, will ring the new bell for the first time after its installation.

POISON VICTIM IN SERIOUS CONDITION

Miss Dorothy Dawson, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Dawson, 220 Summit Lane, is in a serious condition at City hospital, following the accidental taking of bichloride of mercury tablets at her home shortly after 4 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Complaining of being ill, Miss Dawson went to a medicine cabinet and took several pills from a small phial. A few minutes later she became violently ill and Dr. F. R. Harrison was summoned. It will require the elapse of several days to determine the seriousness of her illness, hospital attendants said Saturday.

CASE WORKER SOON TO ASSUME DUTIES

Miss Esther Ankrin, this city, new case worker for the Home Service-Civilian Relief will assume her new duties the first of the year, J. S. Hilbert, chairman of the joint mercy organization announced Saturday.

Miss Ankrin is now completing a special six weeks' course of training at Ohio State university, Columbus. With the addition of Miss Ankrin, the staff of the mercy organization will be ready to cope with any situation that might arise during the coming year, Chairman Hilbert said.

COMMISSIONERS REFUSE TO ACCEPT BOND

J. P. Muaw, who has the contract for the grading of the Lisbon-Salmonville road, presented to the Columbiana county commissioners Saturday a surety bond for $8,848, signed by the Aetna Casualty & Surety company, but the commissioners refused to accept it. The reason given is that this company was surety on the Salem Winona road contract which J. P. Conley & Sons, contractors, failed to complete and the company has refused to make good. Until that is settled the commissioners say the Aetna company cannot do any business with them. There is talk that the company may try to enforce the acceptance of the bond through the court by a writ of mandamus.

SLAYER OF BROTHER APPLIES FOR PARDON

Clarence Burson, who was sent to the penitentiary for killing his brother, has made application for pardon. He has served one year of his indeterminate sentence. Burson comes from Middleton township. He and his brother lived in the same house and quarreled over the location of a stairway. As a result of the quarrel, Clarence shot his brother.

Filed $3,500 Damage Suit.

Morris A. Kenneth and Robert Umstead, who lives on a farm near Salem, have brought suit against the city for the pollution of Campbell's run with sewage from the city's sewers. They demand $3,500.

Get Holiday Vacation.

Miss Lucile Benedict, teacher in the Lisbon schools, has gone to Waldo, where she will spend the holidays with relatives.

Miss Lucy Morris, also a teacher, will spend the holidays at her home in Caldwell, O.

Miss Jean Wilson, teacher in Mt. Union college, will visit her brother, H. F. Wilson and family here over the holidays.

Damage Suit Settled.

The $20,000 damage suit filed by Edwin E. James, administrator of the estate of James Madison Barnes, against the C. & P. Railway company, has been settled. Barnes, an employee of the company, on the 11th of last March was killed when making a coupling. Negligence upon the part of the company and its agents was claimed as a basis of the suit.

Licensed to Wed.

Marriage licenses have been issued to Donald Bradford of East Fairfield and Naomi White of East Palestine, and to Cecil M. Ward of Mingo Junction and Marguerite Gibbons of East Palestine.

SAVE ARM OF MAN ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

Amputation of the right arm of Howard Thomas, 24, son of Roy Thomas, Fredericktown which was riddled by a charge from a shotgun in a hunting accident near Fredericktown shortly after noon Friday will not be necessary, surgeons at City hospital stated Saturday.

The full charge of the shotgun struck Thomas in the right arm when the weapon was accidentally discharged as the young man was in the act of drawing it into position to shoot a fox.

SLAIN GIRL'S MOTHER

court room when she appears.

Corroboration of evidence offered by Mrs. Mary Sanner, a former San Francisco nurse, is expected to be of subpoenaed to testify in the trial.

Mrs. Sanner swore that New approached her for aid in "getting Freda out of trouble," and that New told her Freda "had been running around with other men."

New's version of this phase of the case was that Mrs. Sanner, who lived at the Lesser home, offered to help Freda without his knowledge until the night of the murder when Freda informed him of it.

Caro Smith and Georgia Ledford are two girls who are expected to corroborate Mrs. Sanner. It is suggested that they were told by New of Freda's trouble; that they also were very friendly with the accused even while he was engaged to his murdered fiancée.

Mrs. Sanner's testimony was regarded as the heaviest blow yet dealt the defense. Attorney LeCompte Davis, chief counsel for New, spent several hours in a severe cross-examination aimed to impeach her evidence. She became considerably confused and contradicted statements frequently.

caught it up in my left hand and kept on firing.

"Four more with revolvers suddenly appeared in the roadway and began firing but we went through the party at full speed. There must have been about 25 men altogether in the attacking party. The attackers evidently thought that the lord lieutenant was in the second car.

"Some of the assailants were provided with bicycles. These men sped away on their machines followed by bullets from the military men and policemen accompanying Lord French."

Premier Lloyd George sent a telegram to Lord French congratulating him upon his escape from death.

Vigorous search is being made throughout this city and the surrounding country today in an effort to round up persons who took part in the attack.

MERCURY DOWN TO ZERO MARK

Cold Weather Records Are Shattered Here Saturday.

Records for frigidty were shattered here Saturday when the mercury in several parts of the city touched the zero mark.

The thermometer on the west wall of the Central fire station registered exactly zero at 7:30 o'clock Saturday morning. The mercury at Northside stopped at two degrees above zero, Captain Ruhe said. The lowest previous mark at the two fire stations was 16 above zero early this week.

At 6 o'clock Saturday morning the thermometer on the exposed side of the Chester bridge toll house reached a low mark of two above zero, the toll keeper said. This mark was exceeded for a brief interval earlier this week when a frigid wind sent the mercury a shade nearer the zero mark.

Reception for Kreher.

The Sanhedrim club, an organization formed among the dormitory men at the Y. M. C. A., tendered a reception to John H. Kreher, new boys' work director of the Y. M. C. A., at the "Y" dining hall Friday night. After dinner speeches featured the affair.

DEATH ROLL

L. J. McMillen, aged 85, died Saturday morning at his late home corner of Dresden avenue and Moore street. Death was due to a complication of diseases.

Deceased was born in Pennsylvania and has been a resident of East Liverpool for more than 40 years. He was a member of the First M. P. church of this city.

Besides his wife he is survived by three daughters, Mrs. A. G. Cooper and Mrs. George Rowe, of this city, and Mrs. Harry Kuntz, of Wellsville. Mrs. E. W. McMillen of Third street, a daughter-in-law, also survives.

Funeral services will be held at the late home Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. J. F. Dimitt officiating. Interment will be made in Spring Grove cemetery. Friends may view the remains from 7 to 10 o'clock, Sunday evening.

MANUFACTURED

--built, not assembled

The vital parts of the MACK chassis—axles, engine, transmission frame, radiator, etc.—are built and finished at the MACK plants. Their refinements of design, materials and construction account for MACK superiority in power, strength, stamina, economical operation and reliable performance.

Per ton of rated capacity, MACK Trucks have the most powerful engines. The crankshafts are the largest and strongest used in any motor trucks. Chain drive delivers more power to rear wheels under all conditions than is possible with any other present form of drive.

Capacities 1 1/2 to 7 1/2 tons—tractors to 15 tons. Special bodies and mechanical equipment.

URGE MEN TO REMAIN ON JOB

On account of the steadily increasing demand for manufactured products of various kinds, officials of practically all the local industries will make a plea to their employees that they assist in production as much as possible by the shortening of the annual Christmas loaf.

All industrial concerns here, including potteries, railroads, foundries, and a host of manufacturers, emphasize the necessity for increased production.

The majority of the plants here will suspend operations on one day only, Christmas, on account of the many rush orders. Several will enjoy three days' loaf.

The principal industries in the city announce the length of their holiday vacations as follows:

American Sheet and Tin Plate plant—Employees will go off duty at 4 p. m. Wednesday and will return to work at midnight, Sunday.

McNicol-Smith Pottery company—Employees will loaf only one day—Christmas.

United States Pottery company—Christmas day loaf only.

Stevenson Foundry company—Employees off duty one day.

McLain Fire Brick company—Officials haven't decided yet as to length of loaf, with the exception of Christmas day.

Trimble Construction company—No day—Christmas.

Railroad Shops—Practically all employees continue work.

Mass Meeting Postponed

SMALL CAT STIRS UP BLAZE NEW YORK

"Madeline," the cat.

This quite ordinary cat has the entire city of New York talking about it, and the dailies have printed columns about it, all because Mayor Hylan discovered an item of $6.50 for the maintenance of the cat in the department of education for the months of July, August and September. The mayor wrote to the commissioner of accounts asking him to investigate and report what the cat was doing for a living. So far the only report made is that there is a cat named "Madeline," who may be the culprit.

W. S. S. LEADERS TO FIGHT H. C. L.

War Savings Officials to Hit High Cost of Living Through War Stamps.

THRIFT WEEK IS PLANNED

Extensive Program For Ohio Arranged For Week of Jan. 17, the Anniversary of the Birth of Benjamin Franklin—War Savings Committee Wants Ohioans to Save $50,000,000 During 1920—War Savings Stamps to Become Permanent Feature in Government's Financing Program.

Columbus, O.—(Special.)—Ohio's great War Savings organization is going to get into the high cost of living fight. This big, successful, energetic, aggressive machine with its arms reaching into every nook and cranny of the state is going to take up the public's burden. War Savings leaders expect to hit old H. C. L. through the practice of thrift. "We want Ohioans to save $50,000,000 next year," said John A. Kelley, secretary of the Ohio War Savings committee. Must Save Money.

Ohioans are to be asked again to save money through War Savings Stamps. These little government securities born during the war have become permanent residents with all Americans. Government officials declare that practical Americanization work can best be taught through the pocketbook and that War Savings Stamps are proving to be the keys to the public's purse. Ohioans during the last two years have purchased nearly $130,000,000 worth of War Savings Stamps.

Thrift Week, starting on Jan. 17, the anniversary of the birth of Benjamin Franklin. The program for the week follows:

National Thrift Day, Saturday, Jan. 17, 1920—To enlist Ohioans in a campaign to "save first and spend afterwards." In other words, to stick resolutely to the program of making the present insure the future by the regular saving and investment of some part of every pay envelope to finance future opportunities or needs.

Special Days Named

Thrift Sunday, Sunday, Jan. 18—Sermons in all pulpits on the relation of economic life to religious well-being and the need of sharing with others.

Own-Your-Own-Home Day, Tuesday, Jan. 21—To show why desirable and how possible to own a home.

Make-Will Day, Wednesday, Jan. 21—To urge men to make wills and in so doing impress upon them the necessity of making provision for the future.

Thrift-In-Industry Day, Thursday, Jan. 22—To emphasize the need for factory thrift and the economic value of co-operation between capital and labor.

Family Budget Day, Friday, Jan. 23—To show the importance of using the budget plan in family finance.

Pay-Your-Bills Day, Saturday, Jan. 24—To emphasize the moral obligation to pay debts.

Exports from the United States of woolen wearing apparel for men and boys nearly trebled in the last fiscal year.

OPPORTUNITY CLUBS.

During the first week in January there is to be a state contest of agricultural club champions at the University of Maine. Two hundred club boys and girls, club leaders and farm bureau chairmen will attend. The Maine Central Railroad has made an appropriation to cover certain prizes and awards. The Maine Canners' Association is contributing more.
Five fortunate young people will receive Maine University scholarships as awards for work well done.
One of the finest things about agricultural club work is that it so often leads to the state university. Perhaps not every boy or girl who does successful club work intends to become a farmer. The clubs take the children at the age when they are full of enthusiasm and energy, and simply direct that force into intensely interesting and useful channels. Then with alert minds and trained hands the boys and girls are fitted for further opportunities. Frequently they go to the state or agricultural college. They may become scientific farmers, expert stock raisers, entomologists, or they may find in their first college year a new interest which will carry them into other lines of training and education. In many cases the club has been the gateway to opportunity.

THE ITALIAN SUPERMAN.

D'Annunzio seems to have "put it over" at Fiume, thereby proving once more how highly Italy regards artistic genius. Any other man might have failed in such a hare-brained exploit. Any other country would almost certainly have arrested the arrogant meddler and shot or imprisoned him for mutiny. But D'Annunzio, having successfully defied the Italian government and complicated past redemption the international settlement of the Fiume affair, is allowed to have his way. According to a recent dispatch from Rome, regular troops are to enter Fiume and take over the city on behalf of the Italian government, relieving Poet-Aviator-General and his followers, and agreeing that Fiume is to go to Italy.
"Ours is the glory!" sings D'Annunzio. His mutinous troops are to return to their old posts "and be received as heroes, with the retention of all their honors and rank," and very likely with new honors and rank added.
Such is Italy, the emotional, with its grand-opera idea of war, government and diplomacy, and its inability to resist anything, good or bad, that is done with a grand flourish. D'Annunzio's rebellion was Art.
The artist is not through, either. Having won his triumph, he finds no attraction in "the beautiful, quiet grave" he had picked out to be buried in, just inside of Fiume. He will fare forth on his Pegasus to new adventures. He will conquer new worlds. Or at least, he will conquer the same old world in a new way. He has it all figured out.
As soon as the Fiume episode is concluded, D'Annunzio will proceed to fly around the earth in his trusty airplane. He expects to start before the winter is over, flying east, across Asia to Tokio, and thence across the broad Pacific and the United States of America, and so home again.
Americans will be glad to see him, even if he scatters his own poems broadcast from the sky as he did in war-time, over Vienna. Let him crank up Pegasus and hop off.

ELK HERD SAVED.

The splendid herd of elk in Yellowstone Park, a source of pride to every animal lover in this country, is not to be wiped out either by starvation or the gun of the hunter, both of which agencies seemed in a fair way to accomplish such destruction.
An unusually heavy fall of snow had driven the elk in large numbers from their feeding grounds in the park out into the adjoining states, where the season is now open for hunting them. As a result, over 5,000 of these noblest beasts of our wild animals have already fallen victim to hunters, and the season does not close until Christmas eve.
It has been the custom of the park authorities to piece out the grazing supply for the elk with hay, scattered around their feeding places, and by this means keep them from straying beyond the protecting park limits. The appropriation for this extra feeding, ordinarily enough to last through the winter, has already been used up, owing to the early and heavy snow-fall, and it seemed as if it might be impossible to save the herd from extermination. But Uncle Sam, however dilatory he may be about some matters, rose promptly to the emergency and voted an extra appropriation. Now it will be possible to keep them in the protected range, and save them from starvation and bullets.
The peril which has been avoided so narrowly this time should be a warning as to the necessity of a better system for the protection of wild game in general, in every part of the country.

OUT OF RUSSIA.

The "unofficial peace conference" sitting at London lately is said to have decided to pull out of Russia and leave that country to its own fate. To this decision the big majority of Americans will doubtless say "Amen!"
American troops have not played a very big part in Russia, either in intent or in performance. They were sent at the outset of the Bolshevik revolution to keep American supplies, intended for use against the Germans from falling into German hands. The troops performed that duty pretty satisfactorily in eastern Siberia and around Archangel, and defended themselves when attacked. Their actual military accomplishment, however, was little more than nibbling at the edges of Bolshevism. They were not strong enough to take the offensive in either Europe or Asia, and there was little demand at home for such an offensive.
The two expeditions have been much criticised, and there will be general rejoicing at the adoption of an allied policy that frees the United States of any further obligation of this thankless nature.
Skirts are to be shorter in the spring, but so will everybody else.

NEW YORK LETTER

By O. O. McINTYRE
NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—
I went into the foyer.
Of a Broadway hotel.
And dropped nonchalantly.
Into a deep leather chair.
And took off my hat.
To look at the Night Edition.
Of a New York paper.
Printed at 10 a. m.
And read a few headlines.
And then turned inside.
To read some sport news.
When a fellow sat down.
Right next to me.
And kept kicking me.
On the right ankle.
And I stood it for awhile.
And was getting ready.
To bowl him out rough-like.
When I happened to glance.
Into his face.
And I had three chills.
And ten hot flashes.
In as many seconds.
For it was none other.
Than the dashing pugilist.
Handsome James J. Corbett.
And so I kinda smiled.
But he refused to smile.
And just kept kicking me.
On my poor little ankle.
Until finally I lifted.
My feet up in the air.
And he scowled at that.
And drew back his fist.
And let it go.
And I began to fly.
Through miles of space.
Passing over the top.
Of the Woolworth building.
And the Statue of Liberty.
And when I began to drop.
I was headed.
For the Washington monument.
Which I hit with a bump.
And opened my eyes.
And there I was.
In the hotel foyer.
Sitting on the mosaic floor.
Holding the newspaper.
And looking foolish.
And Jim Corbett wasn't there.
Or nothing.
And a fellow is liable.
To go to sleep anywhere.
These dull days.

SEEK SITE FOR HIGH SCHOOL

With all indications that Chester voters will approve a $75,000 bond issue, to be used in the erection of a new high school building at a special election, to be held on January 31, members of the board of education now are turning their attention to the selection of a site for the proposed new structure.

It was learned that the board has three sites under consideration. A verbal option on all three locations has been taken, pending the decision of the voters at the special election. If the bond issue is approved at this time, steps will be taken immediately looking towards the purchase of a site.

The board will endeavor to secure a site which the members deem centrally located. Two of the proposed locations are on Virginia avenue, while the third, under consideration, is located on Indiana avenue near the site of the present Central building.

No plans for the building will be considered until the election is held. Then if the proposition is approved an architect will be engaged to draw up a set of plans, which after being sanctioned by members of the board must meet the approval of the state school officials before bids can be asked for work.

SHORT XMAS VACATION FOR MILL EMPLOYEES

The Christmas loaf in the Chester plant of the American Sheet & Tin Plate company will be but a brief one, according to an announcement made by company officials Saturday.

The hot mill department will close down Wednesday before Christmas and will not resume again until the Monday following. There will be no suspension of operations for New Year's.

The two local potteries too will enjoy but a brief vacation, two and three days being allowed the employees. In some departments the only loaf to be given will be Christmas and New Year's day.

The tin mill, the potteries and the Chester Tire corporation will pay off their employees the day before Christmas.

New Year's Watch Service.

A special New Year's watch service will be held at the First Methodist Episcopal church this year, Rev. Jesse Deeds, pastor of the church, announced Friday.

This service will take the place of the regular mid week prayer service, beginning probably at 10 o'clock and continuing until about 12:30 o'clock. Different members of the congregation will be asked to act as leaders for a brief period during the service, which will mark the passing of the old year and the ushering in of the new year.

Sunday School Election.

The annual election of officers for the Sunday school of the First Christian church will take place immediately following the regular morning preaching services Sunday. An official board of 25 men and 12 women will be named at this meeting, besides other important offices to be filled. All members of the church have been urged to attend.

To Spend Holidays Here.

Donald Allison and Earl Cunningham, Chester lads, who have been working at a large rubber tire plant at Omaha, Neb., are expected to arrive home Saturday for a holiday visit with relatives here.

SUNDAY TRAINS ON PANHANDLE RAILROAD

Passenger service over the Steubenville-Chester branch of the Panhandle railroad will be resumed again Sunday. It was announced Saturday morning by Station Agent A. L. Skinner, following the receipt of official orders from Pittsburgh.

All Sunday passenger trains over the local branch were suspended as a means of coal conservation in an order issued about ten days ago, as the result of the stringent regulations issued by the fuel administration. Because of this order not a wheel passed over the tracks between Chester and Steubenville last Sunday.

Orders received by Station Agent Skinner are to the effect that the same schedule which was operative before the reduction in service will be restored. West bound trains will leave the Ninth street station at 6:40 a. m. and 3 p. m., while the east bound trains are due to arrive here from Steubenville at 10:15 a. m. and 6:45 p. m. The evening train from Steubenville remains at the Ninth street station until the following morning when it starts its return trip down the river.

SATURDAY WAS COLDEST DAY OF WINTER

Saturday was the coldest day of the winter, according to thermometer readings taken at various places in Chester and Hancock county during the early morning hours.

The lowest reading was recorded in the vicinity of Pughtown, where the mercury was said to stand at from 9 to 12 degrees below zero, at 6 o'clock Saturday morning. At numerous places in the rural districts readings of five and six degrees below the zero mark were reported.

The lowest temperature reported in Chester was four degrees below zero. This reading was taken from a thermometer in front of a Carolina avenue business house about 6:30 a. m. At 8 o'clock the mercury registered zero, although by 10 o'clock the atmosphere was beginning to feel the effects of the sun's rays, the mercury mounting to five degrees above.

State Examiners Here.
Federal Examiners McKee and Montgomery, both of Wheeling, were in Chester Friday for the purpose of making an audit of the books at the First National bank of Chester. They completed their task here by evening and immediately returned to Wheeling. All banks of the state are being examined at this time.

COAL SHIPMENTS FOR INDUSTRIAL CONCERNS

Carload after carload of coal is arriving in Chester each day, to supply needs of local industries and domestic consumers. The first large shipment of coal brought up on the evening freight Thursday, while another large consignment reached here Friday night.

Most of the coal used both by the local industries and the domestic trade comes from the Pittsburgh field. Local dealers supplying the home trade stated Saturday that sufficient orders are on the books to keep their teams busy for several days.

Because of the numerous banks in operation back of Chester, this community was not hard hit by the fuel scarcity during the six weeks that the miners were on strike. Many people managed to secure deliveries from these mines and homes were heated from this source which would have been cold otherwise.

No suspension of the local industries is now feared because of a coal shortage. The two local potteries, it is understood, intend firing some of their kilns with coal in order to eliminate the use of gas as much as possible.

APPEAL FROM WEIRTON YANK

A Weirton Greek, who served in France under the stars and stripes, has enlisted the aid of the Hancock County chapter of the American Red Cross, in an effort to secure Liberty Bonds, which he paid for while in the service and also to obtain government compensation, as the result of injuries resulting from being gassed, while on the battle front. The Greek has written to Miss Florence Moss, County Red Cross secretary, who has taken the request up with the proper authorities in an effort to adjust the matters.

The Greek, prior to entering the service lived at Woodlawn, Pa. Upon his discharge, he located in Weirton. Since last fall, he has been unable to work but has been engaged about the steel mills at Weirton two and three days a week to earn enough to pay his board. He asserts that his condition is growing worse on account of the poisonous gas, which he inhaled and asks that haste be taken in securing his government compensation as he is no longer able to support himself.

The young man paid $100 for liberty bonds while in France. These bonds were not given him when he was discharged so Miss Moss has written to Washington, in an effort to procure the bonds. The Greek also seeks to become an American citizen and this matter, too, is being investigated by the Red Cross.

SPECIAL SERVICES IN CHURCHES ON CHRISTMAS

Christmas sermons will be delivered in practically all of the Newell churches Sunday, this being the last Sunday before the holiday.

Rev. Jesse Deeds, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church has announced that the Christmas service in his church will be held at 7:30 o'clock p. m. His subject will be "The Purpose of Incarnation." The church choir led by Mrs. O. C. Tallman will render a number of special Christmas anthems.

The regular Christmas entertainment for the members of the Sunday school will take place on Christmas night. An interesting program is being prepared, rehearsals being conducted by the committee in charge.

Attended I. O. O. F. Meeting
A large delegation of Odd Fellows, members of Pennosa lodge No. 880, of East End, East Liverpool, attended the regular meeting of Clark lodge, No. 447, I. O. O. F. held in their hall in the Aaron building, Friday evening.

A large class of candidates, from both lodges received the third degree at this meeting, the degree team of the local lodge exemplifying the work. The nomination of officers for the coming six months took place at this time.

CHRISTMAS SERVICES AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

A special service in observance of Christmas will be held at the First Presbyterian church at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. Rev. Hermann Hosack, pastor of the church, will deliver a message, fitting for the occasion, he announced Saturday morning.

Two special Christmas anthems will be rendered by the choir in connection with this service. Mrs. Sterling Carson will lead the choir in the rendition of the music.

The Christmas entertainment at the local church will be held next Friday evening in the church auditorium. The program will consist of various entertaining numbers. Members of the Sunday school will be given a box of candy at this entertainment.

PROF. J. F. MARSH TO SPEAK AT MEETING

Prof. J. F. Marsh, secretary of the West Virginia board of education, who will deliver the principal address at the winter meeting of the Hancock County Teachers' Association to be held in Chester on Friday, January 30 will speak before a meeting of the Newell Parent-Teachers association, here on Thursday evening, Jan. 29. This announcement was made Friday by Superintendent of Schools A. D. Osborn.

Announcement of the coming of Prof. Marsh was received a few days ago.

NASAL CATARRH

Though Very Common It Is A Serious Disease—Worse At This Season.

It is an inflammation of the mucous membrane, causing a discharge, and is aggravated by colds and sudden changes of weather, but depends on an impure condition of the blood. When chronic it may develop into consumption by breaking down the delicate lung tissues and impairing the general health.

Begin treatment with Hood's Sarsaparilla at once. This medicine purifies the blood, removes the cause of the disease, and gives a permanent relief. It has been entirely satisfactory to three generations.

If a cathartic is needed take Hood's Pills—they are gentle and thorough, cleanse the liver, regulate the bowels.

The meeting here will be held in the First Christian church.

STOMACH TROUBLE AND CONSTIPATION ENDED

Suffered So He Couldn't Work for a Year, but Mr. McCormick Was Cured Promptly.

"I had stomach trouble and constipation for five years. One year of this time I was unable to work, suffering untold agony. I doctored with some of the best physicians, also took many proprietary medicines, but could not find permanent relief. Finally a friend recommended Milks Emulsion. The first few doses relieved me greatly, and three bottles of it effected a permanent cure."—C. A. McCormick, Anderson, Ind.

Mr. McCormick is only one of many hundreds who have endured torture for years and then found that Milks Emulsion gives blessed relief and real, lasting benefit. It costs nothing to try. Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and purgatives. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whom sickness has weakened, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. Truly wonderful for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.

A Wide Margin of Safety

A MAN about to hire a chauffeur asked each applicant how near he could drive to the edge of a precipice.

One said a foot, another said six inches, a third said two inches. But the fourth said, "I keep just as far away from a precipice as I can." He was hired.

The wise property owner, like the careful chauffeur, prefers a wide margin of safety. He insures his possessions to the limit and then takes every precaution against fire.

arithmetic

Arithmetic is an exact science.

Ace Motor Trucks are built on Arithmetic—exact.

From the strength of a brake rod to the cubic capacity of a cylinder, everything has been a matter of figures—of balanced figures—accuracy.

Where the greatest shocks and stresses come, we have used, not good materials, but the best that engineers can specify—and then multiplied the mass or area for the sake of absolute safety.

Ace Trucks, Completely Equipped

The purchaser of an Ace Motor Truck gets a whole truck. He has nothing to buy and add to his cost. He has an electric starter, electric lights, bumper, odometer, governor, all-weather cab, and a fully painted Truck, in addition to the best available parts in the chassis proper. REPUBLIC

THERE are two sound reasons why Republic users are not often induced even to try some other tire.

One is that our Prodim Rubber actually does make Republic Tires last longer.

The other is the remarkable non-skid properties of the Staggard Tread.

The full length of at least three of these Staggard Studs is continuously gripping the road, with real non-skid firmness, but with the least resistance to travel.

On dry roads or wet, they hold like a power-belt—with force, yet with friction reduced to the lowest degree.

The sum of these two—Prodim Rubber and Staggard Tread—is longer, smoother, cheaper mileage, that makes every Republic user an unflinching Republic partisan.

THE WHEEL OF PROGRESS

J. C. Cunningham

Designed Many of the Handsome Buildings Hereabouts.

A competent architect is a power in a community, as he not only improves the appearance of its real estate, but increases its value.

East Liverpool is indebted to J. C. Cunningham, 502 1/2 Market street, for many of its handsome buildings and residences. The homes designed by Mr. Cunningham not only present a handsome appearance but are provided with every modern convenience.

Three decades ago the bath tub, steam heat, and the electric light were rarely found in even the largest buildings, while today even small homes are designed to include them.

Mr. Cunningham not only designs buildings of all kinds but prepares specifications, and reliable estimates for their construction and supervises their erection. He is an architect of wide experience and ability and his knowledge of the comparative merits of various kinds of building material and the price at which it sells enables him to render valuable assistance to people who expect to build. Buildings designed and erected under his supervision are substantially built at the lowest cost compatible with good material and workmanship.

Welding

Expertly Done by Hutchison and Weaver.

Hutchison and Weaver, opposite the Central Fire Station, Green Lane, give a quick and efficient service in the welding of broken articles that are made of metal.

All broken goods, after being welded by this firm, are as good and often better than when new. The cost of having broken metal goods welded is trifling when compared with the cost of such goods when new.

Furnace boiler sections are repaired at a great saving to the owner. Any type of cylinder and broken auto parts are also welded skillfully. The firm welds anything that is made of copper, brass, steel, cast iron, or aluminum. When the article is too heavy or bulky to be taken to their shop, they will send skilled workmen with a portable plant to do the job.

People having cracked or leaky furnaces, broken stoves or other articles can have them repaired at a small cost by notifying the firm.

Hutchison & Weaver are expert welders and all work done by them is done right. They have both the equipment and the experience for turning out the highest grade welding work that can possibly be done and their price is always as low as good work can be done for.

A Good Bank

The First National Bank of Chester, W. Va.

The First National Bank of Chester, W. Va., is a prosperous, well managed financial institution and its success is the result of the capable manner in which its affairs are managed. It gives expert advice to new depositors and pays interest on time deposits.

Its resources amount to nearly three quarter million dollars and it is under the supervision of the United States government. It has at its head well known and progressive gentlemen who have made their own successes in life and demonstrated their ability to make a success of any undertaking in which they may engage.

Its officers are: John E. Newell, President; Jos. N. Finley, George E. Lewis, Vice Presidents; O. G. Allison, Cashier; T. T. Bambrick, Assistant Cashier.

The reason for the success of the First National Bank of Chester can be told in one word—efficiency. It makes a friend of every customer and is steadily widening the scope of its usefulness. It affords to its customers every facility for the transaction of business and its service is as complete as through banking facilities and wide financial experience can make it. Its business is not confined to Chester but covers considerable adjacent territory.

A Live Wire

In the Business Affairs of East Liverpool.

The new brick warehouse of P. Milliron at Second and Market Streets is one of the biggest in the State and is provided with every requisite for insuring a service that will be satisfactory in every respect. It is big, roomy, well lighted and ventilated and is thoroughly modern. Goods stored in it will not suffer from dampness or mildew.

Mr. Milliron has been engaged in the transfer and storage business in East Liverpool for years. He commenced business with a few horse drawn vehicles and has developed it until today he has the largest and most modern storage warehouse in this section of the state and owns huge powerful moving vans for long distance hauling, covered wagons, drays, trucks for doing heavy and light hauling of all kinds. He employs skillful drivers and expert porters and packers. Household goods of all kinds, pianos, safes, merchandise, etc., are hauled any distance within a radius of one hundred miles.

Goods are stored securely in his big warehouse and when needed are packed and shipped to any distance. Storage for automobiles, trucks, etc., is provided in the first floor of the building.

Well Patronized

The Liberty Pocket Billiard Parlors.

Up one flight and then, the bright, lighted, properly ventilated and comfortably warmed Liberty Billiard Parlors, with their rows of green baize tables and ivory balls are reached. The ample floor space permits of the arrangement of tables without crowding and gives the players an abundance of room for the dexterous use of their cues.

Lovers of the ivory balls have discovered that it pays to climb a flight of stairs to reach the Liberty Parlors, as they are so much more roomy and cosier than they would be on the ground floor where each opening of the door means a gust of cold air.

The Liberty Pocket Billiard Parlors provide every comfort and convenience for enabling one to enjoy a game of billiards or pool, smoke a good cigar and drink a refreshing beverage that leaves an agreeable taste in the mouth. These parlors are well patronized by business and professional men. They are over McCrory's Five and Ten Cent Store, and can be entered from Fifth Street or through the Reed building in the Diamond. They are cozy and inviting and are amply provided with comfortable seats where one can rest between games. A choice line of cigars, cigarettes and soft drinks are served to all who want them.

Use Electricity

And Add to the Comforts and Conveniences of Your Home.

To boom a town or boom a business the first essential is light. The merchant who clings to the old fashioned idea of not using more light than is needed is like the miser who hoards his money and loses it by not investing it.

Brightly lighted stores attract business. An electric sign is seen a long distance and draws trade. The factory that uses electricity for power, saves time, labor, trouble and expense. The electric motor is small, compact, quiet and clean. It can be placed on an overhead shelf leaving the space that could be taken up by an engine and boiler, clear for the placing of additional machinery.

When electric power is used, a factory can be located anywhere as there is no danger from boiler explosion and no annoyance from soot, smoke and ashes.

The Buckeye Power Company, 4th and Washington Street, since taking charge of the East Liverpool Electric Light service has introduced several improvements, and in developing its own business is stimulating the growth and prosperity of East Liverpool.

The company invites everyone who is using electricity to use more and advise those who are not using it to have it installed.

The Nitrogen lamp, the latest improved Tungsten incandescent lamp, gives a light that almost equals sunlight in brilliancy and white effects, at less than one-half what it would cost to produce a much inferior light with other lamps. By simply attaching the necessary appliance to an ordinary lamp socket, electricity can be made to do the cooking, washing, ironing, sweeping, sewing and other domestic work much better than it can be done in the ordinary way. The home that is not wired for the use of electricity, is being deprived of one of the greatest blessings of modern civilization.

The Dollar Savings Bank is under the direct supervision of its board of directors: Geo. H. Owen, H. N. Harker, J. A. Trotter, W. A. Weaver, Monroe Patterson, B. M. Louthan and Harvey McHenry, gentlemen of ability, integrity and wide experience in financial matters.

The officers of the Dollar Savings Bank are at all times ready and willing to extend to their patrons every service that goes with good banking.

The test of any business is its ability to serve the public and judged by this test, the Dollar Savings Bank is giving the public as thorough and satisfactory a banking service as it is possible to obtain in a city the size of East Liverpool.

The Dollar Savings Bank of East Liverpool.

The Dollar Savings Bank, Fifth and Washington streets, offers its customers every advantage consistent with the service since then, Miss Goldmark has had an unusual opportunity to make some interesting studies of women in industry. She spent her energy for the most part in seeing that women doing the same class of work as men got equal pay, and she had women removed from positions where their work was too heavy. Miss Goldmark firmly believes that woman is in the business world to stay and she thinks that the noblest work for those women to do who try to fit women for their new work, and to better conditions and wages.

While people in many parts of the U. S. are feeling the present coal shortage caused by the protracted strike of the miners we cannot begin to realize the coal conditions in many parts of Europe. According to recent reports from Vienna each family there is allowed only 14 pounds of coal each week. They must wait at one of the coal stations for hours to get this. Mothers and children beg officials to give them coal when their supply runs out during the week.

PLAN TO REMOVE SEIZED LIQUOR

Officials at City Hall Fear Epidemic of "Stomach Trouble" May Suddenly Result.

That an epidemic of "stomach trouble" will become prevalent in East Liverpool if the $10,000 cargo of contraband liquor seized by East Liverpool police early this week is not soon removed from the city, was the opinion of city officials Friday.

The seized liquor, cased in barrels, is securely housed in one of the cells at city hall, pending arrival of federal authorities from Cleveland.

Seizure by city authorities of a quantity of liquor a few months ago resulted in a mild epidemic of stomach trouble. Inasmuch as the city was as dry as Sahara at that time, the seized liquor at city hall offered the only channel of relief to the sufferers and city officials were fairly swamped with appeals for whiskey for strictly "medical purposes."

Officials here are fearful of a recurrence of the epidemic and are taking steps to have the liquor removed from their jurisdiction before the strange disease becomes chronic.

Better Days

By VICTOR REDCLIFFE

(Copyright, 1919, by the Western Newspaper Union.)

Cuddled up like a mouse, lying upon a rude board bench at the side of an abandoned switch shanty, her hand supporting her head and enmeshed in a mass of loose golden tresses, the girl, fast asleep, wore a smile upon her face as though her dreams were pleasant ones.

She could not have been over eighteen and her worn and ragged shoes and crinkled ribbons were not in accord with the general neatness of her attire. A man lurched by, young like herself, paused and stared hard.

"Well, this is a new one!" he muttered. "I say, little one, wake up! This old switch yard is no place for you."

He had touched one hand lying loosely over the edge of the bench. The girl aroused so magically quick and her big blue eyes opened so wide and challenging that Myron Trask retreated a step or two.

"That is the 6:15 western dispatch, isn't it—can you tell me?"

"I can," nodded Trask, "but what have you to do with the 6:15?"

"To get into an empty car. It goes to Meriden, my home town, and that is the only way, unless I walk."

"I see you have done something in that line already," suggested Trask, glancing at her broken shoes, one heelless and its side ripped by a rail splinter, the other with a flapping sole.

"Yes, clear from Chicago. I can't go barefooted as I will soon be if I keep tramping, so I was going to steal my way."

Myron Trask took a silent survey of the forlorn little figure. He steadied himself erect and breathed hard through compressed lips. "See here, Miss," he said finally, "I had a sister once, and you've set me thinking. Tell me a little about yourself and maybe I can help you on your way."

"Why, yes, I'll tell you all about it," said the girl with ingenuous frankness. "My name is Irma Dahlziel. I have been filling a little speaking part in 'Hearts and Homes.' Good people, they were, from the manager down. I ran away from home to join them. They went to pieces last week and there wasn't enough left to pay my fare. I've written father and mother that I am through with my foolish dream of becoming a great actress and am on my way back to the dear old place I'll never leave again. Oh never—never—never!"

So long, so intense, so rapturous were the accents, so vivid, so rapturous did they frame within the mentality of Myron Trask, that he seemed to covet such a paradise of relief and joy, as if for himself, for Trask was on the seat of contrition and repentance at the present time.

"Strange, Miss," he said in an uncertain tone, "but you and I seem to be in the same boat. I got my dismissal from service last week for going on a bout with the crowd. The road may or may not take me back, but no more of the reckless and shy for me. I've got no money, but the hotel will give Myron Trask anything he wants, and you're going to go there with me and get a good meal. Then you are going to the depot and wait for the 8:15 passenger. I'll put you in charge of old Boyd Wesley, the conductor. He'll see you onto the branch at Aberdeen. At that terminus you'll have only fifty-six miles on the Northern. And when you get back to your dear little home, stay there, and once in a while think of the railroad lads, rough and ready, and sometimes reckless, but with hearts as big as pumpkins when they see a woman needing help."

"Why you almost make me cry," said Irma soberly. "You'd make a star hit on the stage with such a human interest speech as that. I'll never forget you."

"Maybe I'd have made a better record and kept straight if I had been lucky enough to run across a girl like you," said Myron, with a slight catch in his voice, as he bade her goodbye at the depot. "Show this card to whatever conductor you run across," and he handed her a bit of pasteboard upon which he had scrawled a few words. "I'm not much just now, but my name will go as far as that of the president of the road with my true pals."

A sudden rush of tears came to the eyes of Irma as she clasped the hand of her benefactor. She leaned towards him and impulsively kissed his bronzed, beard-toughened face with the words: "How your dear sister must have loved you!" Then a moment later she waved adieu to him through an open coach window and for a long time after the train had gone Myron Trask stood reflecting, caressing the cheek where that warm kiss of gratitude had been bestowed.

It was noticeable by the former reckless comrades of Myron later that he eschewed their company and idleness. By some influence he became reinstated with the road and asked for a position as station agent and his chosen post was the little town where Irma lived.

She was not a dull girl and she discerned a motive in his seeking to be near her. He was frank and outspoken and he emphasized the why and wherefore by a free confession when they had become better acquainted. And so they were married.

WEEK'S REVIEW OF MARKETS

Stocks.

Large industrial earnings, the plenty of dividend announcements and shortage of commodities, insuring well sustained industrial activity, propel the market upward, while the exhaustion of credit, peace treaty and Mexican entanglements, and demoralized exchange restrain an upward movement. The market's technical position is strong. A large professional short interest has not yet been extinguished, and has proved a sustaining influence. Many persons who have sold stocks for the purpose of establishing income losses will buy them back later. Bargain hunters are numerous. On the other hand, the sale of foreign-owned securities has been depressing. Foreign exchange recently assumed new importance through continued declines. Earlier stocks were bid up on a basis of anticipated exports, which prevailing rates of exchange now threaten to curtail. Money will be fairly tight, despite periodic relaxation.

Grain.

Despite the mass of factors on both sides of the corn market, the continuance of light receipts has had decisive weight. While breaks in foreign exchange, the bearish government crop report, poor support at times, resumption of coal mining and cancellation of orders by foreign countries have tended to shake prices, passage of the Edge bill, higher hogs, and the renewed activity of corn products industries have more than counteracted bearish influences. Farmers appear willing to sell, but the car shortage restricts the movement. Despite reports that foreign buyers were trying to re-sell oats, the smaller grain was mainly governed by the trend of corn. Large quantities of oats have been worked for export. Big export sales of rye have also been reported.

Live Stock.

Demoralized cattle markets featured recent trade in live stock circles. Unusually heavy runs at the principal yards caused prices to break as much as a dollar on some days. Even better grades went begging. Trade was dull. Conditions depressed prices to the year's lowest levels. Indications point to a continued heavy run for the next two months. Largest shipping orders in a year tended to lift hog prices. The packing element fought the advance on all occasions. Strong and active sheep markets proved attractive to producers and the sheep houses were filled as a rule. Better grade lambs are wanted, but have been scarce.

Cotton.

A genuine element of strength underlies the cotton market. Recent liquidation improved the technical position and improvement in exchange, temporarily easing money rates, and removal of coal restrictions favored an advance. Prices are very sensitive to the fluctuations in exchange. Faith in a sustained advance is based upon the world's great need of cotton goods after the depletion of war and the shortage of raw cotton occasioned by a number of successive short crops.

World's spinners' takings are 13 per cent greater than last year. Exports exceed last season by 750,000 bales or more. American cotton constitutes nearly 80 per cent of the world's entire visible supply. Active spindles in this country have set a new high record. On the other hand, the new crop is somewhat larger than expected.

Wool.

Recent auctions and private sales have not diminished, but rather accentuated, the cleavage between fine blood sold near 70c, while Ohio fine unwashed delaine was offered recently at 88 to 90c. The world's needs wools and wools of medium and lower grades. Average to choice fine secured wool is quoted between $1.60 and $1.70. Missouri three-eighths of wool are enormous, just as they are of cotton, and woolen goods mill both here and abroad anticipate a season of unparalleled activity. Continental buyers were numerous at the recent London auctions.

Metals.

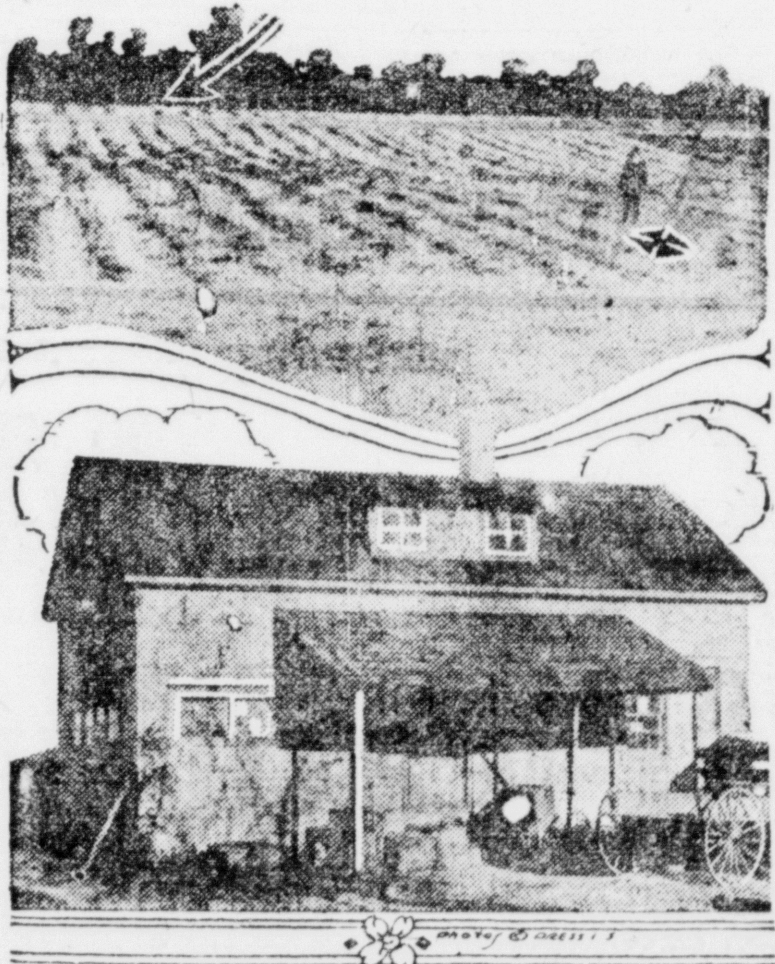

The iron and steel industry is slowly recovering from effects of the coal strike, which closed down a number of mills, and as coal supplies increase, producers regard the taking of further commitments more favorably. The ever-heightening demand for steel remains the outstanding feature of the present situation. Buying pressure has advanced pig iron to $38 and $40 per ton. The Steel Corporation deserves commendation for its strict adherence to the policy of holding prices where they were last March. The season's lake shipments of ore show a decrease of 14,000,000 tons from last year, chiefly due to labor troubles, and the price of ore may advance next year. This year's production of pig iron will fall 9,000,000 tons below the record of 1916, standing 30,000,000.

NO CHRISTMAS TREE AT WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—There will be no Christmas tree at the white house this year. This has been definitely decided after conferences between members of the Wilson family. The president was very anxious to have his grandchildren about him this year and his improvement has been so favorable that tentative plans had been made to bring the McAdoo and Sayre children to Washington. Dr. Grayson, however, opposed the plan, insisting that his program of absolute rest and quiet be adhered to.

EIGHT CHILDREN HAD CROUP. "I have eight children and give Foley's Honey and Tar to all of them," writes Mrs. P. Rehkanip, 2404 Herman St., Covington, Ky. "They all were subject to croup." It loosens and clears mucus and phlegm, stops that strangling cough, makes easy breathing possible and permits quiet sleep. It contains no opiates, and children like it. Good for colds, bronchial coughs and the coughs that linger on after influenza or grip. Good for grown-ups as for children. For sale at Bulger's Pharmacy and McCutcheon Drug Store.

Cross indicates spot where Charles S. White says he stood when he saw Billy Dansey last. Arrow points to edge of woods where White saw Billy leave field. Other picture shows barn on White farm.

If the dry dahlia stubble in the snow-covered field near the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hercules Dansey at Hammon, N. J., could speak, the mystery of the disappearance and death of little Billy Dansey, New Jersey's "perfect baby," would be cleared up.

THE WHEEL OF PROGRESS

J. C. Cunningham

Designed Many of the Handsome Buildings Hereabouts.

A competent architect is a power in a community, as he not only improves the appearance of its real estate, but increases its value.

East Liverpool is indebted to J. C. Cunningham, 502 1/2 Market street, for many of its handsome buildings and residences. The homes designed by Mr. Cunningham not only present a handsome appearance but are provided with every modern convenience.

Three decades ago the bath tub, steam heat, and the electric light were rarely found in even the largest buildings, while today even small homes are designed to include them.

Mr. Cunningham not only designs buildings of all kinds but prepares specifications, and reliable estimates for their construction and supervises their erection. He is an architect of wide experience and ability and his knowledge of the comparative merits of various kinds of building material and the price at which it sells enables him to render valuable assistance to people who expect to build.

Buildings designed and erected under his supervision are substantially built at the lowest cost compatible with good material and workmanship.

Welding

Expertly Done by Hutchison and Weaver.

Hutchison and Weaver, opposite the Central Fire Station, Green Lane, give a quick and efficient service in the welding of broken articles that are made of metal.

All broken goods, after being welded by this firm, are as good as new, and often better than when new. The cost of having broken metal goods welded is trifling when compared with the cost of such goods when new.

Furnace boiler sections are repaired at a great saving to the owner. Any type of cylinder and broken auto parts are also welded skillfully. The firm welds anything that is made of copper, brass, steel, cast iron, or aluminum. When the article is too heavy or bulky to be taken to their shop, they will send skilled workmen with a portable plant to do the job.

People having cracked or leaky furnaces, broken stoves or other articles can have them repaired at a small cost by notifying the firm.

Hutchison & Weaver are expert welders and all work done by them is done right. They have both the equipment and the experience for turning out the highest grade welding work that can possibly be done and their price is always as low as good work can be done for.

A Good Bank

The First National Bank of Chester, W. Va.

The First National Bank of Chester, W. Va., is a prosperous, well managed financial institution and its success is the result of the capable manner in which its affairs are managed. It gives expert advice to new depositors and pays interest on time deposits. Its resources amount to nearly three quarter million dollars and it is under the supervision of the United States government. It has at its head well known and progressive gentlemen who have made their own successes in life and demonstrated their ability to make a success of any undertaking in which they may engage.

Its officers are: John E. Newell, President; Jos. N. Finley, George E. Lewis, Vice Presidents; O. A. Allison, Cashier; T. T. Bambrick, Assistant Cashier.

The reason for the success of the First National Bank of Chester can be told in one word—efficiency. It makes a friend of every customer and is steadily widening the scope of its usefulness. It affords to its customers every facility for the transaction of business and its service is as complete as through banking facilities and wide financial experience can make it. Its business is not confined to Chester but covers considerable adjacent territory.

A Live Wire

In the Business Affairs of East Liverpool.

The new brick warehouse of P. Milliron at Second and Market Streets is one of the biggest in the State and is provided with every requisite for insuring a service that will be satisfactory in every respect. It is big, roomy, well lighted and ventilated and is thoroughly modern. Goods stored in it will not suffer from dampness or mildew.

Mr. Milliron has been engaged in the transfer and storage business in East Liverpool for years. He commenced business with a few horse drawn vehicles and has developed it until today he has the largest and most modern storage warehouse in this section of the state and owns huge, powerful moving vans for long distance hauling, covered wagons, drays, trucks for doing heavy and light hauling of all kinds. He employs skillful drivers and expert porters and packers. Household goods of all kinds, pianos, safes, merchandise, etc., are hauled any distance within a radius of one hundred miles.

Goods are stored securely in his big warehouse and when needed are packed and shipped to any distance.

Storage for automobiles, trucks, etc., is provided in the first floor of the building.

Well Patronized

The Liberty Pocket Billiard Parlors.

Up one flight and then, the bright, lighted, property outlined and comfortably warmed Liberty Billiard Parlors, with their rows of green baize tables and ivory balls are reached. The ample floor space permits of the arrangement of tables without crowding and gives the players an abundance of room for the dexterous use of their cues.

Lovers of the ivory balls have discovered that it pays to climb a flight of stairs to reach the Liberty Parlors, as they are so much more roomy and cosier than they would be on the ground floor where each opening of the door means a gust of cold air.

The Liberty Pocket Billiard Parlors provide every comfort and convenience for enabling one to enjoy a game of billiards or pool, smoke a good cigar and drink a refreshing beverage that leaves an agreeable taste in the mouth. These parlors are well patronized by business and professional men. They are over McCrory's Five and Ten Cent Store, and can be entered from Fifth Street or through the Reed building in the Diamond. They are cozy and inviting and are amply provided with comfortable seats where one can rest between games. A choice line of cigars, cigarettes and soft drinks are served to all who want them.

Use Electricity

And Add to the Comforts and Conveniences of Your Home.

To boom a town or boom a business the first essential is light. The merchant who clings to the old fashioned idea of not using more light than is needed to see with, is saving pennies and losing dollars by his lack of enterprise. For lighting purposes, electricity is the ideal light as it helps to dispel the gloom of the bleak, dreary fall and winter nights. A well lighted home means a contented family, the best burglar insurance is a porch light. They shun light and work under cover of darkness. The fact that you can switch on the light before you open a door or enter a room is a protection and is also very convenient when guests call or leave.

A room that is lighted by electricity never has its walls defaced by soot, smoke or by having matches scraped on them. The use of electricity saves the cost of having frequently painted or paper the walls and ceiling of the room in which it is used.

The Nitrogen lamp, the latest improved Tungsten incandescent lamp, gives a light that almost equals sunlight in brilliancy and white effects, at less than one-half what it would cost to produce a much inferior light with other lamps. By simply attaching the necessary appliance to an ordinary lamp socket, electricity can be made to do the cooking, washing, ironing, sweeping, sewing and other domestic work much better than it can be done in the ordinary way. The home that is not wired for the use of electricity, is being deprived of one of the greatest blessings of modern civilization.

Brightly lighted signs attract business. An electric sign is seen a long distance and draws trade. The factory that uses electricity for power, saves time, labor, trouble and expense. The electric motor is small, compact, quiet and clean. It can be placed on an overhead shelf leaving the space that could be taken up by an engine and boiler, clear for the placing of additional machinery.

When electric power is used, a factory can be located anywhere as there is no danger from boiler explosion and no annoyance from soot, smoke and ashes.

The Buckeye Power Company, 4th and Washington Street, since taking charge of the East Liverpool Electric Light service has introduced several improvements, and in developing its own business is stimulating the growth and prosperity of East Liverpool.

The company invites everyone who is using electricity to use more and advise and those who are not using it to have it installed.

The Bank for the People

The Dollar Savings Bank of East Liverpool.

The Dollar Savings Bank, Fifth and Washington streets, offers its customers every advantage consistent with sound banking and its popularity is the result of the thorough manner in which it serves the public.

It takes every precaution to safeguard the funds of its depositors and makes every effort to promote thrift among the masses of the people by encouraging the starting of small accounts.

Its facilities for handling large deposits are also unsurpassed and it carries the accounts of many of the successful business enterprises of East Liverpool.

The Dollar Savings Bank is under the direct supervision of its board of directors: Geo. H. Owen, H. N. Harker, J. A. Trotter, W. A. Weaver, Monroe Patterson, B. M. Louthan and Harvey McHenry, gentlemen of ability, integrity and wide experience in financial matters.

The officers of the Dollar Savings Bank are at all times ready and willing to extend to their patrons every service that goes with good banking.

The test of any business is its ability to serve the public and judged by this test, the Dollar Savings Bank is giving the public as thorough and satisfactory a banking service as it is possible to obtain in a city the size of East Liverpool.

The service it gives is the best to be had for the money. A great deal of new business comes to this company through the recommendation of old customers. The Company is at present wiring 185 houses.

Very Successful

The People's Building and Savings Company.

The People's Building and Savings Company, 5th and Market Streets, has been an important factor in the growth and development of East Liverpool, and by its influence and financial assistance has made possible many of the most important local improvements that have been made since it commenced business.

Many people who now own comfortable and attractive homes owe their good fortune to its kindly assistance. Many houses in this section are built or repaired with money furnished by it and its annual payment of interest on its deposits makes a considerable increase in the wealth of the community.

It offers its depositors one hundred per cent safety and five per cent interest. First mortgage loans are made on real estate and the customer is permitted to pay back the amount in small installments.

The gentlemen who conduct the affairs of the company are wide awake progressive and enterprising and have the good city at heart.

Risinger Brothers

Electrical Engineers and Contractors, 104 East Fifth Street.

They also manufacture gas arc lamps and take contracts for electrical work of every description. They carry in stock a full line of electrical supplies and appliances and will promptly give estimates for any proposed work, either in or out of town.

Risinger Brothers enjoy a reputation for work well done and contracts faithfully carried out. They have built up their business by giving their customers the best service that can be had for the money. Only the best material and workmanship are put into all jobs undertaken and the price is always as low as good work can be done for.

The firm will be pleased to hear from parties needing work in its line. Risinger Brothers invite holiday shoppers to visit their salesroom and inspect its numerous offerings in gas and electrical goods that will make pleasing and appropriate gifts and that will prove a source of constant pleasure to all who get them.

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

Those people who think that the women who entered the business world during the war are going to step down and out, now that the war is over, will soon change their views if they talk to some of the men and women who are doing employment work throughout the country. Many employers have found women so efficient that they are willing and anxious to employ them wherever possible. The farmers, for instance, are more than pleased with the results of the farmette experiments and a call was sent out last summer for more on the famous land army girls.

Now Miss Pauline Goldmark steps forth to tell us that the same thing is true in the railroad circles. Miss Goldmark is manager of the woman's service section of the U. S. railroad administration. In representing the interests of the 101,000 women employed by the railroads during the war and the 83,000 who have remained in the service since then, Miss Goldmark has had an unusual opportunity to make some interesting studies of women in industry. She spent her energy for the most part in seeing that women doing the same class of work as men got equal pay, and she had women removed from positions where their work was too heavy. Miss Goldmark firmly believes that woman is in the business world to stay and she thinks that the noblest work for these women to do who try to fit women for their new work, and to better conditions and wages.

W. H. Cartwright of Walnut street left Friday for Tucson, Ariz., where he will visit with his family. Miss Lena Wasbutzky, of West Seventh street, left Friday night for a two-weeks' vacation in New York city and Atlantic City.

HOW HE ENDED KIDNEY TROUBLE. "I had a severe attack of kidney trouble and for three weeks could not get out of doors and scarcely out of bed," writes C. E. Brewer, Village Springs, Ala. "Could not bend over at all without the most excruciating pains. I purchased a bottle of Foley Kidney Pills. Was relieved after first few doses and continued their use until completely cured. I consider Foley Kidney Pills the best kidney remedy in the world. No recurrence of my trouble." For sale at Balger's Pharmacy and McCutcheon Drug Store.

VIENNA FOLK BEG HOURS FOR FEW POUNDS OF COAL

A common sight at one of the Vienna coal stations.

While people in many parts of the U. S. are feeling the present coal shortage caused by the protracted strike of the miners we cannot begin to realize the coal conditions in many parts of Europe. According to recent reports from Vienna each family there is allowed only 14 pounds of coal each week. They must wait at one of the coal stations for hours to get this. Mothers and children beg officials to give them coal when their supply runs out during the week.

PLAN TO REMOVE SEIZED LIQUOR

Officials at City Hall Fear Epidemic of "Stomach Trouble" May Suddenly Result.

That an epidemic of "stomach trouble" will become prevalent in East Liverpool if the $10,000 cargo of contraband liquor seized by East Liverpool police early this week is not soon removed from the city, was the opinion of city officials Friday.

The seized liquor, cases in barrels, is securely housed in one of the city at city hall, pending arrival of federal authorities from Cleveland.

Seizure by city authorities of a quantity of liquor a few months ago resulted in a mild epidemic of stomach trouble. Inasmuch as the city was as dry as Sahara at that time, the seized liquor at city hall offered the only channel of relief to the sufferers and city officials were fairly swamped with appeals for whiskey for strictly "medicinal purposes."

Officials here are fearful of a recurrence of the epidemic and are taking steps to have the liquor removed from their jurisdiction before the strange disease becomes chronic.

Better Days

By VICTOR REDCLIFFE

(Copyright, 1919, by the Western Newspaper Union.)

Cuddled up like a mouse, lying upon a rude board bench at the side of an abandoned switch shanty, her hand supporting her head and enmeshed in a mass of loose golden tresses, the girl, fast asleep, wore a smile upon her face as though her dreams were pleasant ones.

She could not have been over eighteen and her worn and ragged shoes and crinkled ribbons were not in accord with the general neatness of her attire. A man lurched by, young like herself, paused and stared hard.

"Well, this is a new one!" he muttered. "I say, little one, wake up! This old switch yard is no place for you."

He had touched one hand lying loosely over the edge of the bench. The girl aroused so magically quick and her big blue eyes opened so wide and challenging that Myron Trask retreated a step or two.

"That is the 6:15 western dispatch, isn't it—can you tell me?"

"I can," nodded Trask, "but what have you to do with the 6:15?"

"To get into an empty car. It goes to Meriden, my home town, and that is the only way, unless I walk."

"I see you have done something in that line already," suggested Trask, glancing at her broken shoes, one heelless and its side ripped by a rail splinter, the other with a flapping sole.

"Yes, clear from Chicago. I can't go hereof as I will soon be if I keep tramp, so I was going to steal my way."

Myron Trask took a silent survey of the forlorn little figure. He steadied himself erect and breathed hard through compressed lips. "See here, Miss," he said finally, "I had a sister once, and you've set me thinking. Tell me a little about yourself and maybe I can help you on your way."

"Why, yes, I'll tell you all about it," said the girl with ingenuous frankness. "My name is Irma Dulzel. I have been filling a little speaking part in 'Hearts and Homes.' Good people, they were, from the manager down. I ran away from home to join them. They went to pieces last week and there wasn't enough left to pay my fare. I've written father and mother that I am through with my foolish dream of becoming a great actress and am on my way back to the dear old place I'll never leave again. Oh never—never—never!"

So long, so intense, so rapturous were the accents, so vivid, so rapturous did they frame within the mentality of Myron Trask, that he seemed to covet such a paradise of relief and joy, as if for himself, for Trask was on the sea of contrition and repentance at the present time.

"Strange, Miss," he said in an uncertain tone, "but you and I seem to be in the same boat. I got my dismissal from service last week for going on a bout with the crowd. The road may or may not take me back, but no more of the reckless and silly for me. I've got no money, but the hotel will give Myron Trask anything he wants, and you're going to go there with me and get a good meal. Then you are going to the depot and wait for the 8:15 passenger. I'll put you in charge of old Boyd Wesley, the conductor. He'll see you onto the branch at Aberdeen. At that terminus you'll have only fifty-six miles on the Northern. And when you get back to your dear little home, stay there, and once in a while think of the railroad lads, rough and ready, and sometimes reckless, but with hearts as big as pumpkins when they see a woman needing help."

"Why you almost make me cry," said Irma soberly. "You'd make a star hit on the stage with such a human speech as that. I'll never forget you."

"Maybe I'd have made a better record and kept straight if I had been lucky enough to run across a girl like you," said Myron, with a slight catch in his voice, as he bade her goodbye at the depot. "Show this card to whatever conductor you run across," and he handed her a bit of pasteboard upon which he had scrawled a few words. "I'm not much just now, but my name will go as far as that of the president of the road with my true pals."

A sudden rush of tears came to the eyes of Irma as she clasped the hand of her benefactor. She leaned towards him and impulsively kissed his bronzed, beard-toughened face with the words: "How your dear sister must have loved you!" Then a moment later she waved adieu to him through an open coach window and for a long time after the train had gone Myron Trask stood reflecting, caressing the cheek where that warm kiss of gratitude had been bestowed.

It was noticeable by the former reckless comrades of Myron later that he eschewed their company and idleness. By some influence he became reinstated with the road and asked for a position as station agent and his chosen post was the little town where Irma lived.

She was not a dull girl and she discerned a motive in his seeking to be near her. He was frank and out spoken and he emphasized the why and wherefore by a free confession when they had become better acquainted. And so they were married.

WEEK'S REVIEW OF MARKETS

Stocks. Large industrial earnings, the plenitude of dividend announcements and shortage of commodities, insuring well sustained industrial activity, propel the market upward, while the exhaustion of credit, peace treaty and Mexican entanglements, and demoralized exchange restrain an upward movement. The market's technical position is strong. A large professional short interest has not yet been extinguished, and has proved a sustaining influence. Many persons who have sold stocks for the purpose of establishing income losses will buy them back later. Bargain hunters are numerous. On the other hand, the sale of foreign-owned securities has been depressing. Foreign exchange recently assumed new importance through continued declines. Earlier stocks were bid up on a basis of anticipated exports, which prevailing rates of exchange now threaten to curtail. Money will be fairly tight, despite periodic relaxation.

Grain. Despite the mass of factors on both sides of the corn market, the continuance of light receipts has had decisive weight. While breaks in foreign exchange, the bearish government crop report, poor support at times, resumption of coal mining and cancellation of orders by foreign countries have tended to shake prices, passage of the Edge bill, higher hogs, and the renewed activity of corn products industries have more than counteracted bearish influences. Farmers appear willing to sell, but the car shortage restricts the movement. Despite reports that foreign buyers were trying to resell oats, the smaller grain was mainly governed by the trend of corn. Large quantities of oats have been worked for export. Big export sales of rye have also been reported.

Live Stock. Demoralized cattle markets featured recent trade in live stock circles. Unusually heavy runs at the principal yards caused prices to break as much as a dollar on some days. Even better grades went begging. Trade was dull. Conditions depressed prices to the year's lowest levels. Indications point to a continued heavy run for the next two months. Largest shipping orders in a year tended to lift hog prices. The packing element fought the advance on all occasions. Strong and active sheep markets proved attractive to producers and the sheep houses were filled as a rule. Better grade lambs are wanted, but have been scarce.

Cotton. A genuine element of strength underlies the cotton market. Recent liquidation improved the technical position and improvement in exchange, temporarily easing money rates, and removal of coal restrictions favored an advance. Prices are very sensitive to the fluctuations in exchange. Faith in a sustained advance is based upon the world's great need of cotton goods after the depletion of war and the shortage of raw cotton occasioned by a number of successive short crops.

HIGH QUINTET PLAYS TUESDAY

Buxton, Brown, Menge, Davis, Manton, Terry Mayer and Bromby Picked by Coach Watkins on First Five.

East Liverpool high school will open its 1915-1920 basketball schedule here on the evening of Tuesday, Dec. 22, with the Steubenville high five as opponents, according to an announcement Saturday by school officials here. Two games will be staged on that evening, both the girls and the boys' teams playing.

With six veterans of last year to form a nucleus for this season's squad, Coach Bill Watkins is confident that the blue and white will live up to its reputation of former years. Coach Bill Watkins has chosen the following players to start the season as East Liverpool high's official representatives in the cage court: Buxton, Menge, Brown, Manton, Terry, Davis, Bromby and Mayer. It is announced that eight men will be in uniform at all home games, while seven players will be carried on trips. There

HIGH SEXTET WINS ANOTHER

Continuing their irresistible advance the East Liverpool high school girls' team added another victim to their rapidly growing list Friday night at the high school gym. The Dover high sextet furnished the "victims"—the score, 25-9.

The girls from Dover were unable to break up the attack of the locals. The visitors did not nearly approach in perfection the team work shown by the blue and white. And team work won, judging from the well-sized score. Miss Minnix starred again for the locals, making eight field goals and four fouls. Miss Butcher was the Dover team's individual star, making all of her squad's nine points. The summary follows:

East Liverpool.....Dover.
Minnix.....P.....Butcher
Bennett.....F.....Taylor
Wynn.....C.....Bechtel
G. Smith.....C.....Wassen
Fox.....G.....Gustavson
Azzell.....G.....Vetter
Field goals—Minnix 8, Bennett 2, Butcher 3.
Poul goals—Minnix 4 out of 8; Bennett, Butcher 3 out of ..
Referee—Greene.

SOCCER GAME IS CALLED OFF

On account of the heavy fall of snow in Tiltonville during the past week, Manager J. Shaw, of the East Liverpool soccer team, scheduled to play there Sunday afternoon, was notified late Friday that it would be impossible to stage the contest. The management of the Tiltonville eleven expressed regrets that the game was performed cancelled and will undoubtedly try to arrange another date for the Potters.

The local soccer players are anticipating a hard opponent in the speedy East Pittsburgh eleven which will play at West End park on Christmas afternoon, providing the ground is not too heavily covered with "the beautiful". Manager Shaw announces that he desires all players to attend a special practice session to be held at West End park Sunday afternoon.

DATE IS SET FOR NORTHEAST TOURNEY

WOOSTER, O., Dec. 18.—The Northeastern Ohio High School Association will hold its annual basketball tournament in Severance Gymnasium at Wooster College on March 4, and 5. Details for the tournament will be worked out at a meeting of the officials of the association with Coach Boles of Wooster College. The meeting will be held in Cleveland about January 12th. Practically all of some sixty schools who are members of the association will send teams here for the tournament.

Cured His Rupture

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trauma did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that really and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, though I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 273 E. Marcellus avenue, Manassas, N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured. You may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

DAYTON, Dec. 20.—Nip Howell, Dayton welterweight, knocked out Jack Dahl of Lima here last night before the Atlas Athletic club in the first round of what was to have been a six-round bout. This makes his second knockout within two weeks, Howell taking the measure of Joe Rhein in the second round at Cincinnati last week.

Jimmy Shetlin of Cleveland out-pointed Mickey Farrel of Philadelphia in the other six-round headline and was awarded the decision. Charlie Maxwell of Lima made his first appearance here as a referee and gave entire satisfaction.

Rickard is Stakeholder.
NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—Tex Rickard has today been named stakeholder for the Leonard-Dundee championship bout to be staged at New Haven, Conn., January 6. Rickard will hold $25,000 for Leonard, to be turned over to the club owners by January 9. Dundee will take a percentage.

M'DONALD HERE SEEKING BOUT

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—The race for Jack Dempsey's signature to a set of articles calling for a championship battle with Georges Carpentier was enlivened today by the arrival here from London of George McDonald, representing C. B. Cochran.

McDonald promptly wired Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, reiterating Cochran's offer of $300,000 for the proposed battle in London. When told that Kearns had demanded $500,000 for the bout, McDonald said he believed the manager of the champion was "spoofing" and expressed confidence that he will land Dempsey for the bout in London. McDonald will leave for the west to meet Kearns and Dempsey shortly unless the champion and his manager can be induced to come east or to meet him at some central point.

"I don't say that Carpentier will beat Dempsey," said McDonald today, "but he will surprise him. The Frenchman will beat anybody he can hit solidly for he has a tremendous punching power and he is wonderfully skillful and clever. Dempsey must be a wonderful fighter too. I have not seen him, but he had to be good to defeat Jess Willard so easily. I've seen many great fighters, including John L. Sullivan, however, and I am convinced that Carpentier ranks with the best of them."

MAZZAN READY TO GO AGAINST STEVE SAVAGE

Matchmaker Norman Zeigler of Canton announces that the stage is set for the initial athletic show of the season at Midland Saturday evening featuring Steve Savage and Jean Mazzan in a finish wrestling match, best two falls out of three. The show will be held in the municipal building in the steel town.

Of interest to East Liverpool and valley fans in general will be the 12-round boxing match between Harry Maxwell, the "Fighting Conductor" of Alliance and Battling Bronson of Dayton which will precede the Mazzan-Savage set. Maxwell is well known in the valley, having formerly been a street car conductor on an interurban run from East Liverpool to Beaver. Maxwell has finished training for the bout at the Alex Thomas A. C. in Youngstown and expects to carry the fight, all the way, to Bronson. The Dayton scrapper has a record of carrying a knockout wallop in either mitt, and the bout is sure to develop into a case of slugger against slugger. It should furnish plenty of excitement.

In Savage, Mazzan, the sturdy Canton Italian, will go against one of the most rugged men in the game. He has won bouts with such men as Zbysek, Rolier and Hussane. Mazzan realizes the strength and cleverness of his opponent and has spent a week of careful training. Friday night he milled for a while with Charles Olson in Youngstown, brother of Jim Olson, whom he defeated in 27 minutes at Wellsville last Monday night, winning the first fall. The bout ended there on account of an injury to Olson's foot as a result of Mazzan's punishing toe hold.

Eleven years with the Phillies and still on deck. That entitles Sherwood Magee to mention in this column. Magee is slated now for the old John can by the world's champion Reds. If Magee is turned loose it will be because Moran wants to start right away to season some youngsters to replace his vets when necessary, for Magee still has a few good years left in his system.

Magee was born in Clarendon, Pa., in 1894. He broke into the game at Allentown, Pa., in 1903, and attracted the attention of the big league scouts right off the bat—or glove. Not knowing much about Philadelphia he allowed the Phils to sign him and started in on what proved to be a long siege with them. He proved a consistent performer and a good hitter. He led the league in hitting one season. He was unfortunate enough to be traded to the Boston Braves the year after they won the pennant and right at the beginning of the season in which the Phils started the world by winning the flag. The Braves hung the waiver sign on him in 1917 and the Reds paid the price for him.

DAVIES' QUINTET DEFEATS GIANTS

Harry Davies' Pirates are showing their heels to all other teams in the Y. M. C. A. Senior league, so far as the schedule has gone, increasing their lead over all opponents by a victory over the Giants Friday night.

The game furnished a lot of excitement for the fans and was well played throughout in spite of the difference in the scores. It was the first game for the two Giant players, Reed and Todd, who have not yet hit their stride, apparently.

Davies again proved the star for the Pirates, who are performing much more creditably in this league than the Pittsburgh team did in the National, while Price was a tower of strength at guard. Coleman and Reynolds also played well for the losers. At a meeting of the four captains of the league following the game it was decided to add two more teams to the league, making a six-team circuit. It was also agreed upon to limit each team to seven players, two less than are now playing on each squad.

Monday, as a preliminary to the "Y" game with the Pittsburgh South-side five, the Indians and the Red Sox will battle, while Tuesday's card calls for a bout between the Red Sox and the Giants.

BRITON FINDS TOUGH GOING

Diminutive "Fly" Champion Was Outclassed By Sharkey, Say Fans, But Proved He Is Game to the Core.

By JACK VEIOCK.
NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—Jimmy Wilde's campaign in America promises to be anything but a picnic for Jimmy.

The diminutive flyweight champion, wonderful little fighting machine though he is, has already discovered that giving away weight to rugged American bantams is not as easy as it looked when he sized up the "Yankees" from his own side of the pond.

James ran into a surprise in his first appearance in an American ring when he met Jack Sharkey of Milwaukee, recently. Sharkey outboxed the Britisher and won the popular decision from the critics at the ringside. Wilde made a good showing. He demonstrated beyond a doubt that he is the greatest fighter of his weight who has ever donned the mittens within the memory of the oldest present-day fan.

Had Wilde and Sharkey met in England it is altogether probable that, owing to the English system of scoring points, Jimmy would have received an edge from perhaps a majority of those who would have been at the ringside. But Jimmy's in our back yard now, and, as the saying goes, "When you're in Rome," etc." Pete Herman, the king of the banties; Joe Lynch and Pal Moore, both of whom have traded punches with Wilde in England, and a number of other willing and aggressive American bantams are standing along Wilde's pathway around these United States. Jimmy will be given an opportunity to meet them all if he lingers with us long enough, and there's no telling what may happen to the prestige he built up abroad as a boxer capable of giving away from seven to ten pounds and beating his opponents every morning before breakfast.

Wilde, however, is a good sport, and he has shown by coming here that he is not afraid of being robbed of any glory that is justly his. That he will not be disillusioned goes without saying, for the American boxing fan is ever willing to give a good boy credit for all he deserves, and Jimmy will get his. If he wants to give away weight, why, that's Jimmy's business. That he is going to be popular and a big attraction in a majority of his ring appearances is a certainty, even though the house at Milwaukee was not as large as had been expected. Sharkey's good showing against Wilde will do Jimmy no harm in a financial way, for where American fans may have over-rated the little Britisher prior to the Sharkey bout, they are now of an opinion that he may find the going too strenuous at most any time and they will watch his campaign with more interest because he has not shown up as a world beater.

Heavies Will Battle.

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 20.—Heavyweights will feature the big card to be staged by the Newark Sportsmen club Monday night when Frank Moran and Soldier Jack Burke meet in an eight-round bout. Both men wound up training today. Joe Benjamin, the Pacific coast star, will meet Mickey Donley and Jack Sharkey, who defeated Jimmy Wilde, will box Patsy Johnson. Joe Lynch and Joe Fox will complete the card.

Bees make both honey and wax from the nectar obtained from flowers.

MARTIN SPORTS ANOTHER K. O.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Dec. 20.—Bob Martin, inter-allied champion, today sported another kayo on his record. Bill Bresnahan, pride of Camp Custer, was the victim in less than one round of milling. General Pershing witnessed the bout and congratulated Martin after it was over.

RESOLUTION NUMBER 194.

A Resolution Declaring it Necessary to Improve West Fifth Street from the West side of Market Street to the East side of Monroe Street as Now Paved With Surface of Either a Tar or Asphalt Preparation and by Constructing Therein All Necessary Curb, Retaining Walls, Sewers, Ditches, Bridges, Gutters and Drains and Doing Everything Else Necessary for the Proper Completion of Said Improvement.

Be it resolved by the Council of the City of East Liverpool, State of Ohio, (three-fourths of all the members elected thereto concurring):

Section 1. That it is deemed necessary to improve West Fifth Street from the West side of Market Street to the East side of Monroe Street by repaving or resurfacing said street as now paved with a covering of either a tar or asphalt preparation and by constructing therein all necessary curb, retaining walls, sewers, ditches, bridges, gutters and drains and doing everything else necessary for the proper completion of said improvement, in accordance with the plans, specifications, estimates and profiles prepared by the Engineer of said City.

Section 2. That there shall be no change in the grade of said street as improved, nor will there be any change in the grade or elevation of the curb. Said grade of said street and curb shall be the existing grade.

Section 3. That the plans, specifications, estimates and profiles showing the proper grade of said street and improvement after completion, with reference to the property abutting thereon, which were heretofore prepared by the City Engineer and are now on file in the office of the Director of Public Service on the third floor of the City Hall in the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, and are open to inspection to all persons interested therein; that said plans, specifications, estimates and profiles be and the same are hereby approved.

Section 4. That concrete curb shall be constructed along said street where needed, and where concrete curb is not needed, the curb shall be protected by metal corner bars. The entire cost of curb where placed abutting against said part so improved shall be assessed against the property abutting thereon.

Section 5. That fifty per cent of the whole cost and expense of said improvement shall be paid in five annual installments with interest on deferred payments at the rate of five per cent per annum, provided that the owner of any property so assessed, may at his option pay said assessment in cash within thirty days from and after the passage of the assessing ordinance, in which case said cash assessment shall not include any item of interest upon bonds to be issued in anticipation of the collection of deferred installments of assessments.

Section 6. That the assessments to be levied shall be paid in five annual installments with interest on deferred payments at the rate of five per cent per annum, provided that the owner of any property so assessed, may at his option pay said assessment in cash within thirty days from and after the passage of the assessing ordinance, in which case said cash assessment shall not include any item of interest upon bonds to be issued in anticipation of the collection of deferred installments of assessments.

Section 7. That bonds of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio shall be issued in anticipation of the collection of assessments by installments and in an amount equal thereto.

Section 8. That the remainder of the entire cost and expense not specially assessed or legally assessable against the abutting property, together with the cost of any real estate or interest thereon purchased or appropriated and the cost and expense of any appropriation proceedings therefor and the damage awarded any owner or adjoining lands and interest thereon and the cost and expense of such award shall be paid by the issuance of bonds in the manner provided by law.

Section 9. That a sinking fund for the redemption of bonds issued in anticipation of the collection of assessments and for the payment of any bonds issued to pay the City's share of said improvement shall be provided for by further acts of this Council at the time it determines to issue bonds.

Section 10. That this resolution shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

WALLACE REID in "THE LOTTERY MAN"

A Paramount Artcraft Picture
PRESENTED BY JESSE L. LASKY

A Husband for a Dollar

Why worry about the high cost of living when you can buy a husband for a dollar.

The secret is out! With 200,000 women on his trail—any one of whom may hold the ticket that will claim him for life—Jack Wright (alias Wallace Reid) has confessed that the lottery man is he and that he will be here Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

Yet he still smiles—even when reciting a letter like this:

Dear Sir—Here be my ticket. Have been married now 3 times. Sumhow they die. Glad to try Lottery Man if young and strong.

MRS. SADIE DUNN.

THE COLLEGE CUT-UPS

Wallace Reid and Harrison Ford in the classroom bet on which piece of candy the fly will light upon.

THE SHIMMY WEDDING.

Wallace Reid dreams of getting married in a bathrobe and a high hat, with minister, bride, and attendants yielding suddenly to the latest dance craze.

YOU MUST LAUGH WHEN

500 WOMEN BATTLE FOR WALLACE REID

The Great Drawing for a husband takes place in front of the newspaper building. The Lottery Man loses his shirt, dignity, and bachelorhood in a mad scramble to escape a fighting mob of women.

LIZZIE, THE HUMAN SKELETON, WINS THE LOTTERY

Wallie Reid hitched to an Old Maid for life! He nearly faints.

TO DEMOBOLIZE SERVICE FLAG AT CHURCH

Demobilization of the service flag services will be held Sunday evening at the Second United Presbyterian church. The flag, which contains the 25 blue stars and two gold ones, will be delivered for safe keeping among the permanent records of the church. A special program has been arranged for the service. Following this service a Christian service flag will be dedicated. All former service men will attend in a body.

LITTLE CHILD SCALDED TO DEATH IN TUB

WHO WANTS TO MAKE A BID ON STEEN CHRISTMAS TIES?

BRIGHT SPOT IN THE DAY'S NEWS

Frank Jefferies is glad he is alive. Frank, who lives at Neffs, Belmont county, had a narrow escape from death.

He was setting blasts while at work improving a road between Neffs and Glencoe.

The force of the explosion threw the batter wires, leading to the charge, over a high tension wire which carried 66,000 volts of electricity.

There was a flash. Jefferies was tossed over a 30-foot cliff.

Fellow workmen found him with his clothing caught on a protruding root.

Frank was uninjured except for one arm and on the soles of his feet.
